Talking Matters Workshops are delivered by experienced members of the Speech and Language Therapy Team and aim to give educational staff the skills they need to deliver targeted intervention for children with communication difficulties. The workshops cover a wide range of communication difficulties and offer practical activities, strategies and resources to make staff feel confident in supporting children.

The practical activities will be demonstrated to you and you will be shown how to use them effectively with either an individual child or group of children. Each workshop also includes strategies to help children generalise these skills in other situations.
